

DESIGNQUORUM

DesignQuorum was founded in 1997 as a creative services agency with a focus on the promotional products industry. Our company's services have evolved over the last few years to include all facets of a full-service promotional marketing and fulfillment organization. This includes assistance with brand awareness and graphic solutions, product idea development and sourcing, Web site and store development, innovative merchandise program development, inventory monitoring, fulfillment and direct mail. Our corporate office contains all corporate accounting functions, sales, fulfillment and warehousing

DesignQuorum's company mission is to provide a select group of companies with the highest quality creative services and promotional products. We believe in understanding each of our clients' business models, needs, and goals and target audience - turning the impossible into a unique reality.
